procedures

Easing grid connection of renewables

Speeding up procedures and reducing complexity

- REDII provisions on the maximum duration of procedures
  - Good practices from MS transposition of the Directive
  - Good practices outside the scope of REDII:
    - “Single permit” procedures
    - Capping length of various steps
    - Flexibility on technology specifications
- REDII provisions on the one-stop-shop
  - Good practices from MS transposition of the Directive
  - Good practices outside the scope of RED:
    - Positive silence under certain conditions
    - Digital tools and procedures

Sufficient human resources and skills

- Ensuring staffing in line with expected project deployment to meet NECP targets
- Good practice examples from the Member States
- Addressing the skills gaps
